PREFACE

Once again the Editor thanks the team of scholars (their names identical with those printed in the 1941 volume) who have so liberally assisted him with material.

This volume is the first to bear the name of a new Associate Editor, Professor Henry J. Pettit, Jr. Professor Pettit had assisted Emeritus Professor Broughton in the compilation of the American material in previous years, and readily agreed to act as Associate Editor when Professor Broughton asked to be relieved of that position in order to concentrate upon other work. Tribute has been paid elsewhere to the great services rendered to the Annual Bibliography by Professor Broughton; to that tribute the Editor adds his grateful thanks. Professor Pettit has already proved himself a worthy successor, and the most pleasant relationships established with him have contributed in no small degree to the enjoyment of preparing this volume.

Professor Pettit has been helped by Messrs Donald F. Bond (Chicago), Thomas A. Hanzo (Colorado), and David P. Harding (Yale); while Dr C. T. Bissell has collected the Canadian material.

Mr G. S. Ivy has again compiled the Index.

BIBLIOGRAPHY, 1941 AND 1942

CORRIGENDA

The 1941 and 1942 volumes were prepared partly separately and partly together. As a result of the first phase, ten entries were omitted from the 1941 volume, though this lapse was discovered in time to add them at the beginning; during the second phase, on one or two occasions the material became mixed, and "ghost" entries resulted—cross-references with one-half in one volume, one in the other. Into this category fall, in the 1941 volume, Nos. 81, 1750, and 3594; in the 1942 volume, Nos. 2531 and 2541.

1941

- No. 65; a duplicate of No. 40.
- No. 455; omitted, and No. 3438.
- No. 491; the number, though not the entry, omitted.
- No. 2004; a duplicate of No. 1504

1942

- Nos. 133, 144; duplicates of Bibl. 1941, 247, 260.
- No. 500; largely a duplicate of No. 431.
- Nos. 2047, 2501; omitted.
